Halaqah Policy

Intent

Our Halaqah lessons are intended to offer a broad and rich curriculum to allow for coverage of the areas prescribed; to allow for a variety of ways to explore faith, Islamic identity and heritage, their community and character development and wellbeing. The Halaqah lessons have an intention of providing a high quality, coherent and progressive experience of the subject, with scope for cross-curricular learning. Through each unit, children will know about and understand Islamic as well as other faiths, in an age-appropriate manner. They will be able to identify, investigate and respond to a variety of issues. SMSC, PSHE, RE, character development, values and community cohesion will reflect on and relate to their learning in Halaqah and to their own experiences. The intent is to make sure that children understand the relevance of Islam in today's modern world and how it affects our lives in this world and the Hereafter.

Implementation

Halaqah will be taught following the traditional Islamic pedagogy of oral transmission. The class teacher and children will sit on the floor and engage in discussion of key objectives and concepts. These can be led by the class teacher; however, the children will also have the ability to ask questions in order to discuss concepts at greater depth.

Our Halaqah curriculum will enable children to gain the key Islamic values and concepts as well as wider concepts, which will enable them to develop behaviour and character, as positive and active citizens. Halaqah will take place on a daily basis for half an hour. The wider subjects' areas which are integrated into Halaqah are:

- Fundamental British Values
- SMSC
- PSHE
- Citizenship
- RSE
- RE

The objectives in the areas identified above link to national curriculum objectives.

Impact

Children and teachers will engage in the Halaqah lessons, by conducting classes whilst sitting on the floor. Children will develop: a better understanding and connection with their faith, confidence as well as the skills to listen actively, dialogue with others, take turns, respect other people's opinions, ask questions, reflect and to express their opinions. Pupils will take part in quizzes, group discussions, written and oral assessments to track understanding and progress against set learning objectives.

Inclusion

At Unique Academy, we will teach Halaqah to all children, whatever their ability. Our Halaqah provision will enable all children to make progress intellectually and as well as spiritually. We will achieve this through high quality teaching, questioning and dialogue between teachers and children.

Parents

Parents will be supported to develop their child's love for Halaqah. Parents will also be encouraged to undertake Halaqah at home with their families.

Monitoring and Review

The Trustees will monitor the learning of Halaqah within Unique Academy regularly.
